Mecklenburg now boasts a total strength of one army corps, according to Soviet military personnel, who attribute this increase to maneuvers scheduled to take place soon. There are 11,000 men in Schwerin (T46), a T-34 tank division in Hagenow (T24) and its area, and one regiment of light motorized artillery in Gorries (T46).

Stockpiling of German and Soviet artillery ammunition is continuing without interruption at the dump in Buchholz (T57).
